The members of the Class of 1970 dedicate their yearbook to Mr. John Hahn, a man who has been a vital part of the atmosphere and spirit of Natick High School during their three years of attendance. The fact that Mr. Hahn started teaching at Natick High School when we first entered as sophomores made him a very special person to our class, someone with whom we could identify. Throughout these years we have grown accustomed to his humor and enthusiasm, both of which qualities have added to making our Marching Band a great success. Mr. Hahn's creative approach to music has helped develop half time at football games from merely an intermission into an exciting, even cultural event. He also teaches the much-appreciated instrumental classes and music appreciation courses and he conducts the sophomore girls' chorus.

We all wish to thank Mr. Hahn for devoting so much time and talent to the Class of 1970.

Mrs. Egleston — English

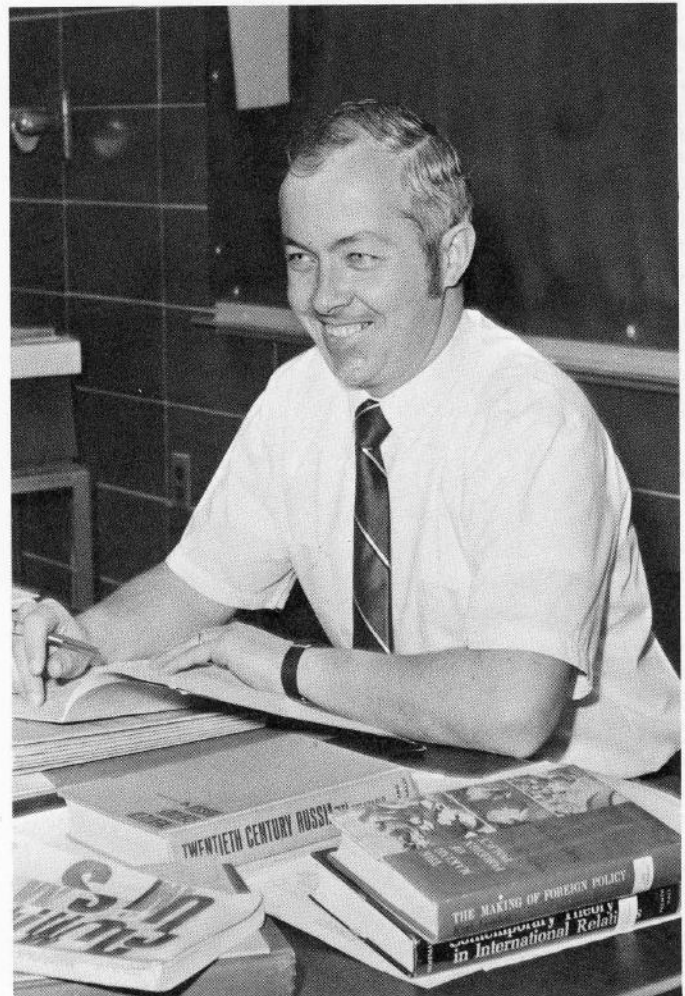

We, the class of 1970 would like to express our sincere appreciation to Mrs. Doris Egleston and Mr. Edward Culhane for the guidance, patience, and effort given us during our three years at Natick High.

Our problems have been many. They defended our interests when we felt we were right, and showed us our responsibility when we were proven wrong. This is little recognition for two people who have given us so much of their time and concern, aiding us both individually and as a class.

We sincerely thank them and wish them the best of health and happiness in the years ahead.

EVENING OF MUSIC

On May 1 the band under the direction of Mr. John Hahn and the Natick High Chorus under the direction of Mr. Leo Bachini presented an evening of music. The listening audience was completely on the receiving end of the show, for along with the fine program there was no admission fee for students. The band and chorus have done a fine job this year under their respective directors.

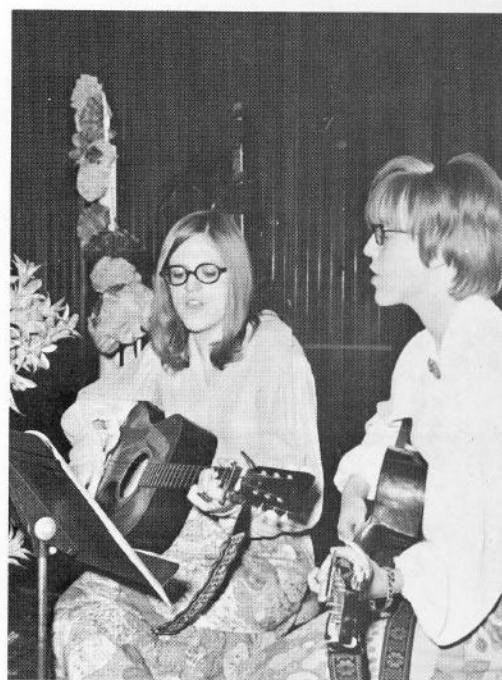

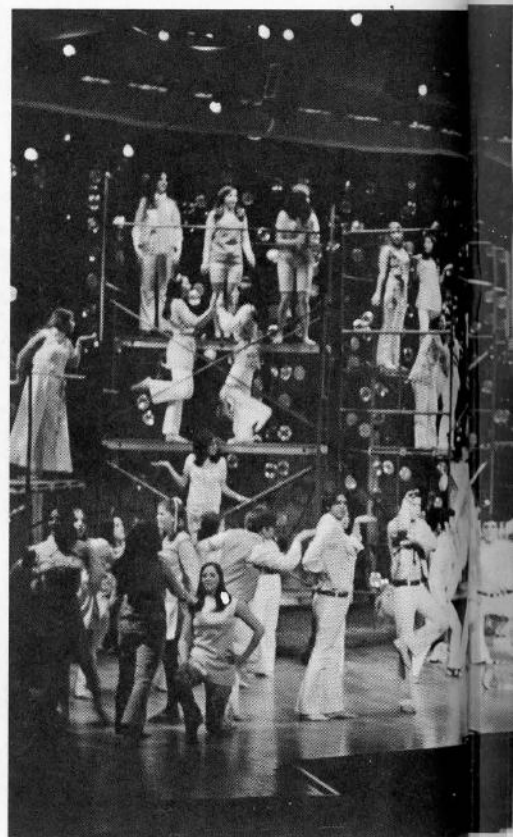

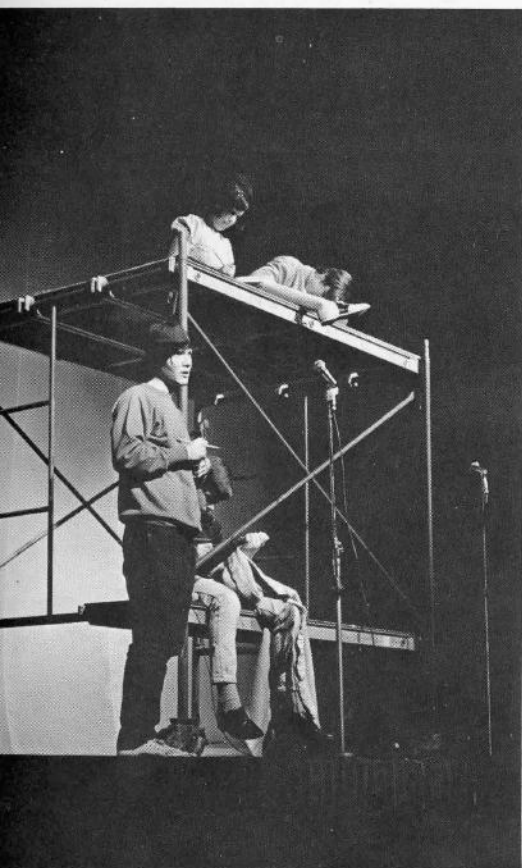

SCHOOL FAIR

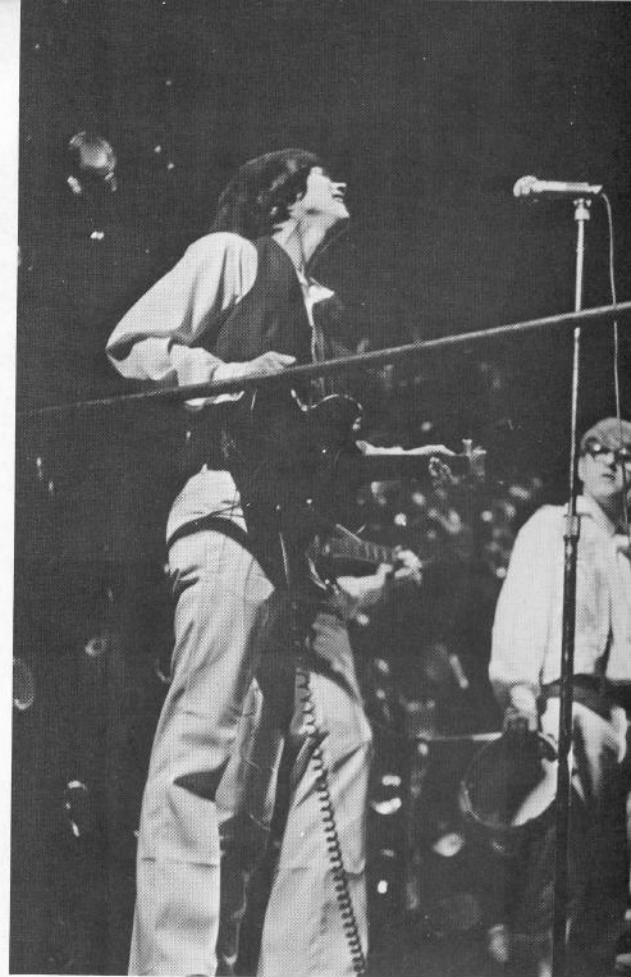

This year both parents and students alike enjoyed another successful school fair. Everyone was fascinated by the many projects, exhibits, and skits presented by the students. We hope that the school fair will continue to be an annual event at Natick High.

First Row: Mr. Murray, S. Tiberio (1st physics), S. Lilley (2nd Biology), W. Lebowitz (3rd Anatomy & Physiology), D. Olans (Honorable Mention), R. Bresloof (Honorable Mention), Mr. Columbo. Second Row: J. Martin (3rd Biology), D. Nellis (Honorable Mention & Anatomy & Physiology), P. Knight (1st Biology), J. BE AGAIN"

EXIT THE KING

The stage is a clock, the theme is time. Time goes forward and backward, around and inside out. Some say the king is mad; some say normal. Some say the king has never lived, some say he is all men who have ever existed. "Exit the King" a play about a man who is and a man who isn't, a paradox of being.

OLIVER

A boy grew up on a stage of color and light, sharing his words and music with his friends and enemies. Natick High presented "Oliver", a musical experience.

OUR EXCHANGE STUDENT

PASCAL KINDLER

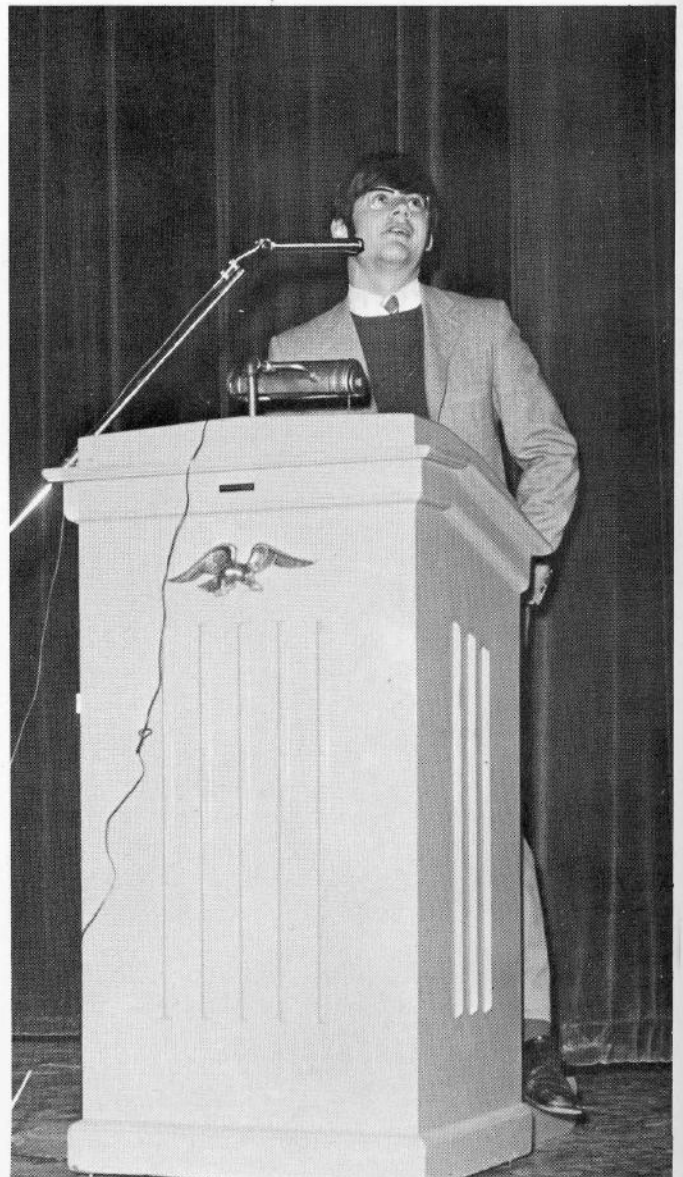

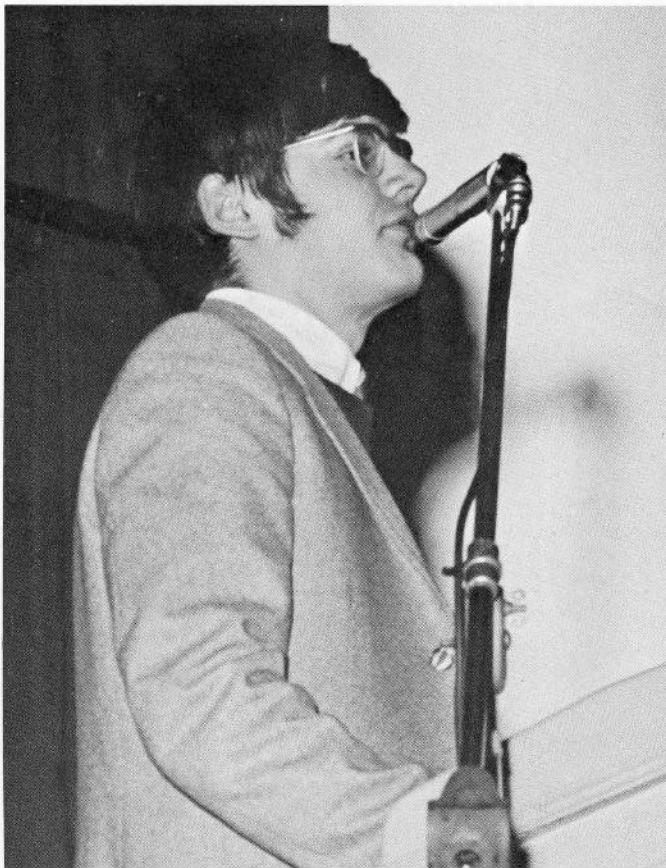

Pascal came to America from Geneva, Switzerland with a fantastically romantic French accent. When he first heard that he was coming to Natick he was disappointed that it was not further west, but now is sure that Natick was a good choice. Before his arrival he thought that he didn't like American girls but now he thinks differently having made many friends.

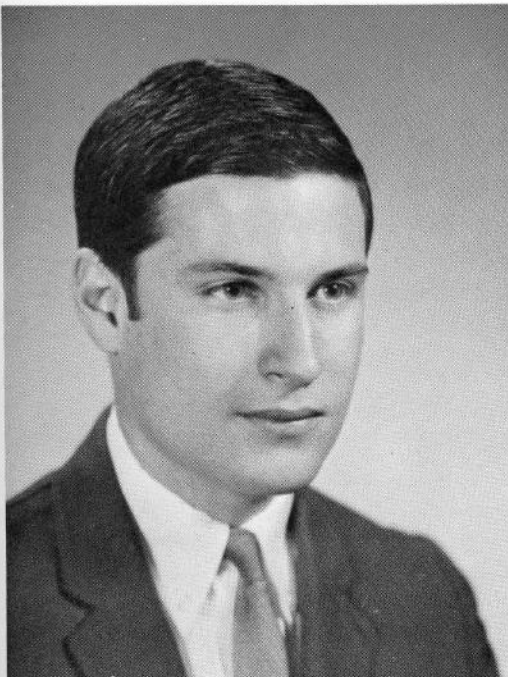

Pascal was our first AFS student to earn athletic letters, one in soccer and the other for track; and when asked he said that sports was the best part of Natick High for him. In fact, his only problems schoolwise were the first weeks of American History, but that is understandable. He was very impressed with the buildings and location of the high school, saying it is much better than those he visited in surrounding towns.

Pascal gave many talks throughout the town, illustrated with slides of his homeland. His friendly personality earned him many friends among the people of Natick. He was a good addition to AFS in Natick and truly helped to increase international understanding.

We are sincerely happy to have had Pascal with us this year and wish him luck next year and in all of his future endeavors. Thanks for being you, Pascal.

PROM '70

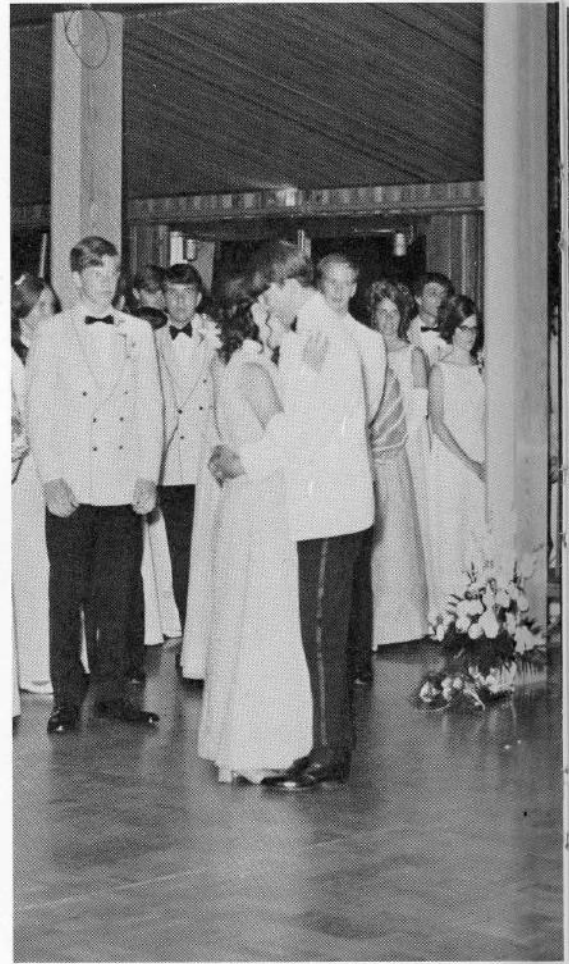

A TIME FOR US

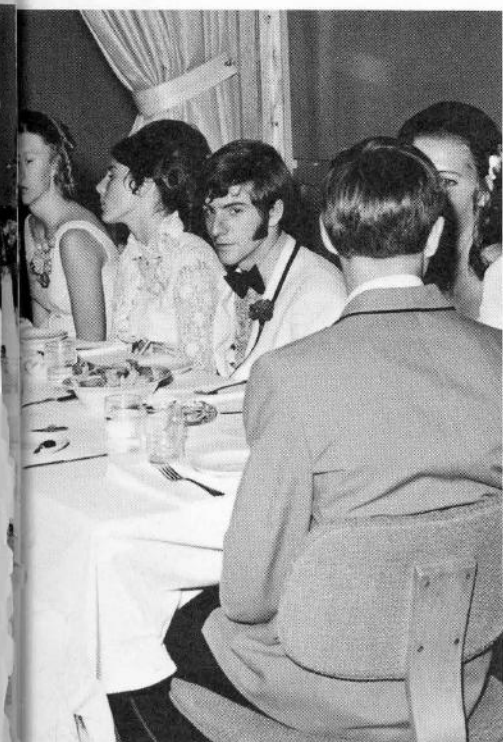

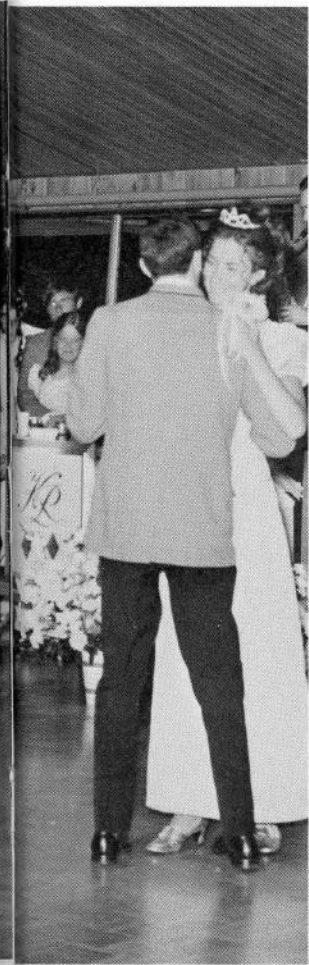

The Junior Prom-Senior Reception was held at the King Phillip Ballroom in Wrentham on Friday Evening, June 5th.

Gail Beliveau was chosen Queen of the prom. Diane Young and Paula Fitzgerald were crowned her princesses.

CLASS HISTORY

In an era when a Supreme Court Justice advocates forms of rebellion, when a President in his Inaugural Address professes that he will bring a torn country together, when in five seconds four caring, unknowing students fall to the ground in martyrdom we have chosen as the theme for the Class History — "Conflict." In an era when Jerry Rubin screams "Do It!" and Vice President Agnew calls those doing it "effete, intellectual snobs" we have chosen as the theme for the 1970 Class Day exercises — "Three years of Conflict: A Changing Natick High."

Once we were small. The class of 1970 consisted of us barechested boys and girls running and playing together on swings and slides, slurping dripping popsicles and crying when we had to go to bed because the big kids were still outside and having fun and acting like big kids should. Then one morning we woke up to find that we were those big kids. We drove the fast cars and stayed out late at parties and smoked and drank and loved. We grew up very quickly and now, only in our graduation do we fully realize the true speed of our very short childhood.

On entering High School every incoming sophomore found the occasion not only exciting but nauseating as well. The newest fashions were exhibited on opening day and one could tell (if he looked carefully) the very subtle change one makes between Junior and Senior High. We self-consciously stood in the courtyard groping for our names on those little white mimeographed sheets and laughed as the guy you never could stand whacked you in the back and cheerfully announced, "I'm in your homeroom again." Obviously, delight radiated throughout the body. We moved slowly toward our homeroom, not desirous of showing our lowly social and intellectual position. Our sickness had not yet disappeared. We pricked out our future with little needles and then went to the cafeteria for our first bout with Natick High Food. Nausea persisted. Tackling our official Student Council Natick High Hand books we discovered a universal truth: "There are three major wings; A, B, and S. A is on the left; B is in the middle; S is on the right. Any room above fifty is on the upper level, any room below fifty is on the lower level." And our confusion disappeared momentarily.

Hours turned into days and the Sophomore Executive Board was soon created: Bob Raider, Beth Anastos (who has since left us), Alice Hayes, and Sue Stolberg were elected to lead us through the Wonderbread years. Culture was the password for the intellectual curiosity in our sophomore year as we received a smattering of all subjects; there was no limit to our academic pursuits. Many were oblivious to the political machines forming in the country, others were enraged. Many were pleased with our sports victories, others apathetic. Many hurried to assemblies, others were reluctant to go. The class had not yet become one and if there were a single conflict which deemed to be an impossible barrier to overcome, unification of the townies and the hippies was certainly one of the more blatant. The year came to a close with wild political slogans, lewd nude posters (which were later removed) and fiery campaign speeches which interested and even excited some of the potential voters. The class was heartbroken to learn that it was unable to procure political knowledge first hand with the use of the voting machines, but in the end Bob Raider, Bill Finn, Dave Fields and Sheryl Landsman emerged from the battle a bit scarred but nonetheless victoriously. The sophomores, as a class, sponsored their first official function infamously entitled "Double-Exposure." Due to that enormous failure we lost more than $100.00. It was with resolute plans for unity, action and financial stability that we began planning for the oncoming winds of the Junior Year — proud, pleased, and poor.

We arrived for the start of our Junior Year to blase to bother about the location of our home room and too confident to check the combination on our lockers. But this was going to be our big year — the year we were to learn the history of the United States and the location of Greenfield.

We digested all this knowledge and more and one day those of us who had digested more than most were inducted into the National Honor Society in a ceremony held for the first time in the evening. With the help of our Honor Society Officers, Nikki Lemaire, Joe Downey, and Madeline Joe, the class of 1970 had helped to break tradition! This was a foreshadowing of things to come.

The Junior Class was a class that dared to be different. The Student Council held its dance in the inner courtyard that year and for the first time students were allowed to come clad in casual attire. The times were certainly changing.

Then came the big day when we were to pick up our class rings at Pendleton's. We opened up our little brown envelopes and found a surprise inside. Gone were the big black stones and the gold seal. In their place was a sparkling blue faceted stone. Traditionalists demanded a recount of the ballots. Radicals celebrated their victory. The cleavage in our class was becoming more evident daily.

But this was a voting year (as was every year at Natick High) and despite our problems the class had come together to choose the officers of the long awaited senior year. Again we had been promised the use of the voting machines, but when we arrived at the polls, our hearts were crushed to learn that our pencils would have to suffice. Out of our disappointment leaders were born: Dave Fields, Tom Williams, Diane Kopelman and Sheryl Landsman. It is with deep gratitude that we acknowledge them and our class advisors Mrs. Egleston and Mr. Edward Culhane.

We had no means neglected our social graces during our Revolutionary Era. In fact, Prom '69 was the height of the social season and represented a rather challenging challenge to the decorations committee for the class had very discreetly chosen Crimson and Clover as their overly romantic theme. It was fun and we danced on through the summer months . . .

Senior slump hit us quickly as we returned in September although the epidemic was usually said to strike immediately after Christmas Vacation. We merely drifted into our homerooms that first day without discussing the position of our lockers or the condition of the food. All looked to the future; the present seemed out of place. At that time we were living in our dreams and the Senior Year for which we had patiently been waiting was merely consuming time. Pascal Kindler, the AFS student from Switzerland, joined us in our final year and although he remained neutral in the typical Swiss Tradition, he leaned a little toward our side and we, a bit towards his. To Pascal we sincerely wish that one day one person like himself will offer the same worldliness, knowledge and friendship to his friends and family that has been ours all year.

Posing for pictures was one of the more tormenting processes we faced as Seniors. The results were elegant and indeed quite startling. The collection of class dues was another problem simply solved by the Class of 70. In a last desperate attempt to secure a jolly frolic for Senior Week, those of us too frugal or too poor to pay our dues were threatened with a $2.00 penalty fee. We paid! As Seniors we had received and lost and earned our own Senior Lounge equipped with a Coke, Orange, Root Beer machine, a juke box, and the original, uncut Hari Krishna Chant. For this we are indeed thankful.

Many attempts were made at breaking the tedium of the schoolday but none was more successful than the infamous bomb scare. Although no one could deny the sobriety of such an occasion, the students bravely adopted a festive air while a search for the demonious bomb continued inside. Just as the fun was beginning to manifest itself with all, the school was declared relatively safe and the normal day schedule resumed. In the true American tradition, we secretly admired the culprit; not to be undone, a toilet paper phantom attacked Natick High the following month and added a festive holiday mood to the lush green courtyard. Our compliments are due to these superb exterior decorators. Senior skip day had to be repeated several times this year in order that a majority of students could reap the benefits. In the end, all were satisfied.

One must remember that the Class of 1970 is not, as many would have wished, a group of conformists delighting in the same hobbies and interest but rather many individuals with individual feelings, ideas, and talents. Yvette Poirier and Emily Rosenthal were the first members of our class to be published authors. Tom Fekete made weekly appearances on Channel 2. The first member of the class to step out into the business world alone, Scotty Williamson owns his own private trucking and gardening service. Bill Finn almost made his professional debut in the sunken "2 if by Sea?". Richard Fletcher, besides being a member of the All-American Orchestra in his Junior Year, was the first Natick High Student to forfeit his Senior Year for the freedom of the University. Gale Beliveau and Tina Towne have pursued their modeling careers to the professional level. Bob Adams and Debbie Brown were members of the All-State Chorus while James Powers, Rich Fletcher, and Peter Hirtle were instrumentalists in the All-State selections. Barbara Levin is to represent the Massachusetts Speech League in Kansas City at the Forensic League Nationals on June 15. Chosen from many applicants, David Wormley made Natick proud as a member of the televised Greater Bostonians. Girls' State was fortunate enough to feel the presence of Nikki Lemaire; Boys' State was honored with our own qualified quartet of Bob Raider, Mark Dennett, Jay Bennett, and David Fields. Sara Pfahl was the first woman to infiltrate the previously all-male ranks of the shop room as Nancy Myers and Sally Rees demanded that this female equality be granted. One can only repeat the words of our friendly villain Steve Bloom in his moment of sanctification when he smilingly uttered, "It's been real."

Sassamon was the original school newspaper and by tradition the only newspaper at N.H.S. It had always demanded the students' attention merely because there were no other diversions. And then one day, in a flash of creativity, SASSAMINI, a Sassamon mini creation, was born. The two papers were considered adequate supplements when, in a fit of civil mindedness, the Student Council newspaper 275 appeared at the ticket booth. The title left much to the imagination of the individual student yet as the year came to a close, well hidden secret was finally revealed: Room 275 was the meeting place of the Student Council under the direction of Bob Raider, Bill Finn, Mark Dennett, Diane Young, and the rather elusive Miss Leavitt. And so it was. Each paper had its own loyal following and conflict persisted. (We have intentionally neglected the underground newspaper, TANNIS, for in the minds of many this journal hasn't a place among scholarly literature and in the minds of others, it has never existed.

To be an athlete means more than to be the possessor of a rippling torso. Intelligence and agility are equally important. The boys who assembled in the locker room of Natick High to venture out for sports scored high on all three counts. And so it was with great confidence that we frugged out onto the football field, tripped onto the track, bopped onto the baseball diamond, and tippy-toed to the tee off.

Perhaps it should be noted that there are students at our high school who do not consider the accomplishments of our sportsmen important, but to those boys who worked hard for a successful season their records are indeed important and for this reason they have been included in the history of the class of 1970.

The football team found leadership in that most valuable lineman Gary Dziama. Dennis Sullivan was honored with the William Hannigan Trophy in both his Junior and Senior Year and was deemed The Most Valuable Football Player of 1970. Last but not least we must mention the boys of F Troop who, although they spent more time on the bench than they did on the field, contributed to that fantastic team spirit which is so typically Natick's.

The crosscountry team traversed the course behind their captain Joe Downey. They had a great record of eight and one and finished sixth in the Division One State Meet. Bob Hamilton was chosen The Most Valuable Player.

Sportsman-like attitudes were prevalent on the basketball court this year with Buck Geier and Gary St. Martin in the lead as the team dribbled out onto the court. The team finished the season with a thirteen and five record, qualifying them for the Tech Tourney, Jason MacGregor was elected Most Valuable Player, scored the greatest number of points, and played on the All-Star Team.

The Guiding Lights of the hockey team were Seniors Bob Hamilton and co-captains Dan Horton and Jim Morris. The Most Valuable Player on the team was without a doubt forward Jim Morris who, along with Dan Horton, played on the All-Star Team.

The Wrestling Team did the red and blue proud on the mats with Mark Dennett as captain, an excellent player who had earned the title of Most Valuable Wrestler in his Junior year. The team finished in a respectable sixth position at the State Meet.

Gymnastics is a sport which really caught on at Natick High and showed a considerable improvement under the leadership of Brian Hassig and Dave DeMeo. A consistent performance on the parallel bars earned Stephen Carey the position of MVP on the gymnastic team.

The Indoor Track Team finished third in the league and fifth in the State Meet. Charlie Woodward, captain of the team, finished second in the state out of thirty-six competing on the hurdles. Scott Kannel finished second in the shotput competition.

Jim Linsky, a most valuable asset to his team in first singles position, and Neal Pomeroy were the co-captains of the Tennis Team, a team which ended the spring season with an admirable eleven and seven record putting them in fourth place in the Bay State League. Joe Downey, Steve Hill, Mike Kendig and Rick "Not-So" Fine rounded out the Seniors' contribution to the team.

After all the batting averages had been calculated and all the homeruns hit, the Natick High Baseball Team faired well under the leadership of Dennis Sullivan, said to be the best third baseman in the league. He was also chosen the Sportsman of the Year.

The Track Boys showed up again in the spring, this time for outdoor track with their captains Mark Whelan and Scott Kannel. Charlie Woodward is the State Class "A" Champ in the hurdles. Scott finished third in the state in the shotput earning him the Most Valuable Field Event performer. Mark Whelan finished third in the broad jump and was awarded the MVP Trophy. Barry Yarkin attained fourth place in the 440. For his hard work in the 100 yard dash Arthur Schwarz was chosen the Most Improved Runner.

Soccer was a varsity sport for the first time this year. Tommy Williams and Buck Geier did a great job captaining that sport which is most popular the world over.

The Golf Team saw a good season on the greens. The Fassik twins were the team stars, with Carter chosen as Most Valuable Golfer of 1969; and John, the team captain, deemed the Most Valuable Golfer of 1970. The two are representing Natick at the State Schoolboy Golf Tournament.

The boys cannot honestly accept all the credit for their success. Diane Young and her Senior cheerleaders Sherry Young, Diane Kopelman, Bonnie Shapiro and Nancy Ambler led the fans in loud, rhythmic cheers meant to spur the Redmen on to victory. To these girls and to those ambitious, hard-working boys we offer our thanks for many hard-fought battles.

As an actor strides onto the stage, he can immediately sense the inevitable struggle of those neurotic and hypersensitive souls who graced the stage before him. This year many had the opportunity to become neurotic and hypersensitive as theatrical activity was at its peak. One, two, three, four productions are now in evidence.

In November John Wayne and James Stewart invaded the public address system to herald the advent of the sophisticated rabbit, Harvey. Marc Ratner and Alesa Frazee headed a star-studded cast of Linda Fine, Carolyn Price, Jeffrey Davidoff, Tom Fekete, Debbie Brown, Steve Bornstein, Mark Foley, Pam Armour, Wendy Lebowitz, David Wormley and Sonny Kaiser as Harvey. Harry Garnett demonstrated his versatility as set designer and director in this recently revised Broadway farce by Mary Chase.

Exit the King, a prominent piece in the theatre of the absurd, was produced in the auditorium foyer on December 28 and 29. The first modern drama to be executed at the high school, Exit the King told of one man's death in relation to his failing kingdom. Under the direction of Gerald Dyer, the cast (Barbara Levin as Marquerite, Emily Rosenthal as Juliette, Robert Adams as the doctor and William Finn as King Beringer I) relived the nightmarish fantasies of Eugene Ionesco on his own death and his own nothingness.

The Tony and Academy Award winning musical, Oliver, occupied the stage for two exciting productions on April 10 and 11. The team of Garnett-Bachini-Hahn collaborated for the first time in four years with such talented players as Steve Bornstein, Marc Ratner, Mark Foley, Spence Wright, Debbie Brown, and Richard Luttrell. Each performer, in his own inimitable style, contributed to the success of this ambitious project. The result was a highly polished, highly praised production which emphasized the importance and necessity of the all-school musical.

70 Now with its theme of love and non-conformity acted as the finale of Natick High's busy theatrical season. Switching from past to present with seeming ease, 70 Now showcased the talents of seventy Natick High students in a quick-paced, thoughtful revue directed by Gerald Dyer. The cast offers special thanks to the Temptations without whom it never would have been the same. With mist adrift, the final number formulated a possible course for mankind's difficult road ahead:

"If we only have love we can reach those in pain, we can heal all our wounds, we can use our own names. Then with nothing at all but the little we are, we'll have conquered all time, all space, the sun, and the stars."

There is never-ending conflict in the world of science and the scientists at Natick High are part of this noble search. Gail Belliveau has made great strides in her research on the Naughty Birth Control Pill and was awarded second prize at the State Science Fair held at MIT. Mike Alexander, another distinguished scientist, earned first place at MIT for his work on "Regrowth and Regeneration of Hydra."

Technically our drawers proved themselves quite adequate this year as Oleg Klimowitz won the top state award in industrial arts for his design of an experimental automobile. Steve Tiberio, Glenn Lever and Clifford Strickland were among others in the state cited for their fine work in this precise area. Judy Hayton received an honorable mention in the globe scholastic art competition for her work in watercolors.

The citizens of the town of champions have always been proud of the fact that Natick is a drinking town by tradition. But gradually they were forced to admit that muffled words such as grass and acid were being bantered about the halls of the high school. The muffled voices multiplied and swelled and one day we realized that Natick, like many other suburban towns in America, had not escaped the drug problem. In our Junior year a panic-stricken administration turned on the television in search of answers. A basic knowledge of drug usage was provided but the program proved unable to suggest a course of action and so we turned to PROJECT TURNABOUT: "The Drug Problem isn't really a Drug Problem at all but a People Problem." And suddenly everybody cared and everyone wanted to become involved. Out of this hope and love and fear grew "Dial Help," a people helping people project which enables all to talk about their hang-ups and people will get high on people instead of on drugs.

There has been conflict within the halls of Natick High School, a conflict of attitudes and ideas. The fact that we can now wear our groovy bell-bottoms and somewhat hip boots, that our dungarees are no longer considered dung and that minis are still watched although no longer apprehended is proof that Natick High, in a momentous step, abolished that dress code which was later decreed unlawful.

Two school days were subordinated to current problems. Ecology Day, April 15, was the first progressive program instituted by our school. With citizens smoking and sputtering, and littering and coughing, students at NHS felt the urgency of our atmospheric situation and worked to find a sensible solution.

With the killings at Kent State and our recent move into Cambodia many felt the necessity to hold a Teach-In at Natick High. For those who attended this southeast Asian seminar on May 28 it was perhaps the most intellectually stimulating event of our three year career. Although token classes persisted in their studies, radicals and conservatives, sugar cane cutters and economists assembled to debate the current and future status of American Foreign Policy. Although the day was hot and bronzy the courtyard remained relatively clear of sunbathers; the entire day was a salute to the Natick student and a forewarning of exciting educational trends.

In our three years at Natick High, conflict has not escaped our day-to-day personalities. We met competition on the football field and in the classroom, in our voting procedures and on the stage; the competition for the better mark and the MVP Award was as much a part of our lives as eating and drinking. Perhaps, as each Senior receives his diploma he will think of a fleeting paradise called Woodstock and dream, if only for the moment, of a better world. The History of The Class of 1970 was the result of past conflicts; perhaps our future history can be the result of peace.

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1970, being of somewhat sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath our last Will and Testament:

We leave a lot less noise to the I.M.C.

We leave the junior class another empty white envelope.

We leave our lies to the office.

We leave Mr. McGrath one push button telephone.

We leave Mr. Collins a watchdog for the math wing.

We, the senior girls, leave the matron our secrets and our coats.

We, the senior girls, leave the junior girls 13 pounds of instant rice and 12 drip-dry wedding gowns.

We, the senior girls, leave the junior girls the broom and dustpan behind the door.

We, the cheerleaders, leave the football team peacefully; the hockey team fondly; and the basketball team a hundred bottles of beer on the wall.

We, the senior cheerleaders, leave the junior cheerleaders 10 bottles of non-streak leg make-up, a case of red lipstick, and a ripped down sign from Wellesley's locker room.

I, Dave Fields, leave a crate of butterin for next year's senior class president.

We, Mark Christopher Foley, Paul Bregoli, Steve Bornstein, and a few other sordid seniors, leave the following academy award nominations:

To Mr. James Murphy for his true portrayal on Walt Disney's "Rover, The Irish Setter."

To the staff of the cafeteria in "True Grit".

To Mr. Bachini and Mr. Hahn in "The Boys in the Band."

To Mr. Crow and Miss Wrenn in "The Birds".

To Mr. Thibeault in "Easy Rider".

To the entire history department in "Oh, What a Lovely War!"

And to Mr. Sticklor and Mr. Rosen in "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid."

I, Tina Towne, leave Gary Towne in hopes that he can carry on the good name.

We, James Tucceri, Duncan Campbell, and Richard Donohue, leave an escape route map through Natick to any underclassmen who are being chased by 2 cruisers and 1 truant officer during D, E, F and G periods.

I, Mike Chervinsky, leave my sound effects to Mr. Collins.

I, Denise Chiacchia, leave Mr. Hahn a year's supply of hermits for his daily ride home.

We, Patti and Billy, leave our artistic talent on one of the many layers of paint on the ice house.

We, Pat Furnia and Nancy Boyd, leave Mrs. Parisi one bottle of tranquilizers, one pile of eraser shavings and a peaceful corner.

We, Jimmy Morris, Michele Schavone, and Joan Sigalove leave Gary Towne a box of Cheezits.

We, Dave, Jimmy, Tom, Brian, Vinnie, Nancy, Carol, Sue, Joni, Mary, Michele and a former Natickite leave our fabulous Wellesley Chinese Fire Drills to anyone who wants them.

We, the senior members of the Varsity Basketball team leave to Coach Christie, Sammy DeRosa, John Nattarelli, Rick Bernardi and only one basketball.

The "Two of Us" in Mrs. Robertson's E Period modern problems class leave her the Great Mandella and the thought that happiness is getting high on love.

I, Vinnie Arena leave my locker room orations to Mr. Carey.

We, the senior members of the cast of Oliver, leave to Jon DiSavino 5 yellow and green noserags.

We, Bonnie and Charlie leave the back of Mrs. Wouff's Chemistry class as friends.

We, Pat Kincaid and Steve Goldberg leave "our" door in the lower 600's to any two Safety Patrolters willing to uphold it.

We, Debbie, Sue, Nancy, Jean and Cici leave one empty space in the dirt parking lot.

We, the senior members of the band leave Mr. Hahn a recording of "put the uniforms back in the bag."

I, David Cox, leave my brother Barry my low grades, many absences, and a few merits in hopes that he will do better.

We, Richard, Diane, Mary, and Wendy leave Mr. Rooney our Vocabulary Notebook and the knowledge that organized crime does exist at Natick High.

We, Gail and Wendy, leave Mr. Culhane in peace knowing that we were his biggest modern problems.

We, Patti, Susan, Sandi, Carolyn, and Donna, leave . . . well aware of what college life is really like.

We, Mr. Murphy's E Period English class leave him Marc Foley in PUNishment for this year.

We, JD and DJ leave two juniors reluctantly.

I, Bob Raider, leave my three ring circus to next years ringmaster.

We, the seniors of D period study, leave the juniors the hill and one book of matches.

We, Barry, Jimmy, and Bob, leave to Mr. Bransfield a pillow for his chair while Ted Shifrin teaches, and a thought for the day.

I, Doug Montgomery, leave the art of weather forecasting for a rainy day.

We, Mr. Murphy's E period class, leave Skip Padover locked in the closet.

We, Barbara, Jane, and Beth, leave our Friday nights to any three junior girls who can manage to carry on the tradition.

We, Mr. Culhane's E period Asian Studies class, leave him one soggy yen and one gold key.

We, the seniors from A period study, leave our "talks" to Jeff Strong and any other juniors capable of participation.

We, Alice Hayes and Michele Savone, leave our dismissals and truancies to any qualified junior girls.

I, Sue Buerlen, leave Diane McLaughlin one lesson on how to drive without giving your father a nervous breakdown, and my car, if it lasts that long.

I, K. V., leave with the knowledge that no one will replace me.

We, Cici and Sue, leave next year's majorettes with the hope that maybe they will have some practices.

We, Mr. Murphy's D period English class, leave him one unused can of class control.

I, Elaine, leave Mr. Maher one new tablet of passes which were removed on Ecology Day.

We, Mrs. Hart's F period family living class, leave her with the hope that maybe next year's class will finish all her unfinished work.

We, the seniors of Mr. Bransfield's D period math class, leave him a year's supply of white economo #202 dustless chalk.

I, Dick Luttrell, leave Mr. Garnett my empty Seagram's bottle from Oliver, four play report forms ready to use, and many sincere thanks for being a great human being at a time when one was needed.

We, the survivors of E period study, leave the ticket booth to next year's senior study fugitives.

I, Nancy Rodman, leave my nickname: Brod Rod, Boradman, and Roddy, to my sister Margie in hopes that she can live up to them.

We, Mr. Filledes' D period A+P class, leave him one recording of "let's play school", a lifetime supply of medical reports, 40 slightly pithed frogs, and the thought that we are taking Boobie with us.

We, Miss Talbot's seniors, leave her Excedrin headache # 202. (there is no cure)

I, Pat Fumia, leave my big mouth to next year's pep club with the fond hope that they'll outyell Framingham South.

We, Nancy, Sheryl, Ginny, Sherri, and Denise, say goodbye to our table in third lunch.

We, Mr. Rooney's E period zoo, leave him 30 unlocked cages for next year's animals.

We, Bonnie and Diane, leave to the junior girls our "baby loves".

I, Rod Spinazola, leave one '59 Ford to anyone who wants it.

We, the Mincemeat girls, leave any deserving junior girls our distinguished nickname.

I, Tom Roach, leave Mr. Culhane 130 pencils.

I, Barry Yarkin, leave to Mr. Bransfield 1 bottle of brine and a pickle barrel; to Mr. Leavitt, 1 year's supply of Ben Gay and a blond toupe.

We, Dodi, Rita, Nancy, Gail, and Katie, leave to Linda Haywood the name "Rug" to carry on in memory of Mama Leone.

I, Sue Watson, leave Susan Fenner my plaid sneakers to wear every Friday of her senior year.

I, Beth O'Neil, leave my lunchbox to my sister Mawn with hopes that if she brings a lunch every day, she may gain a couple of pounds.

We, Mr. Overlock's B period Math class, leave the aforementioned with a bowl of whole numbers to concur with that famous singing quote: "Life is not a bowl of whole numbers."

Bill Finn leaves Mr. Sticklor two pairs of colored socks in which case the latter must choose only one and explain his reasons for doing so.

I, Donna Barber, leave A period with Mr. Crow to anyone who's lucky enough to find someone like George.

We, Deb, Mike, Pharf, Carol, Sue, and De, leave all the alligator lines.

We, Judy, Janice, and Gail, leave our lunch table to Joe, to carry on in our memory.

We, Mr. Filledes' A&P students leave him one pair of shiny new roller skates.

I, Kathleen Cunniff, leave to Mr. Gaudette one French composition . . . unwritten.

We, Mr. Harrington's senior English classes leave him the problem of the population explosion.

We, the members of the IR Club leave to Mr. Culhane one copy of "How to lead a demonstration on the State House without knowing it."

I, Kevin Rooney leave Natick one telephone pole.

We, Charlie Woodward and Debby Kearney leave . . . together.

We, Denise and Ginny leave Mr. H's afternoons . . . in peace.

I, Commissioner Jue leave to Commissioner Dennett the Social Studies wing with hopes that he will remember to sweep it every morning by 8:15. I also hereby leave him in charge of the airlines we established down there on Ecology Day - hopefully the Commissioner upstairs in the language wing will be as good a control pilot as Steve Imparato was even though Mr. Hull didn't always appreciate it.

I, Jean Richmond leave a certain junior girl a certain hockey player in peace.

We, the senior class officers leave Mr. Culhane looking for David.

I, Janice Heath leave to Chris Houghton a pen that he doesn't have to borrow.

We, Dick Luttrell and Debbie Brown leave three used coffins and a lot of ugly makeup to anyone daring to undertake such grave parts next year.

In the memory of Chemistry days, we Sue and Vinnie, leave Mr. Colombo all his lectures on everything except Chemistry.

We, the senior members of the baseball team leave Mr. Carroll one bottle of Excedrin.

I, Debbie Brown leave Mr. Bachini with the thought that sopranos are seldom wrong.

We, Paula Kimball, Margaret Hagemeister, and Gerard Leblanc leave Mr. Hahn a year's supply of green lollipops and peanut brittle.

We, John Bennett and Billy Christie leave our autographed pictures of the Natick coaching staff to Bob Whelan.

I, Diane Kopelman leave 100 new PA speakers, 50 no deposit no return Cotillion tickers, 25 days left to pay your dues and one "locket, locket."

We, Tony Mauriello and Howie Honigbaum leave to Mr. Plause and any other hockey fan of the junior class tickets to next years Bruins Playoffs.

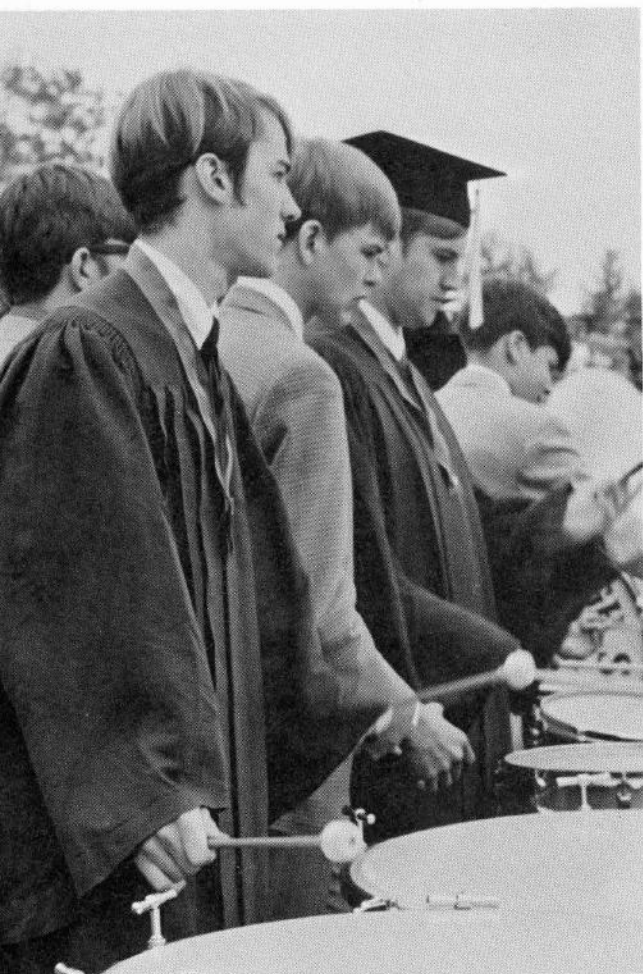

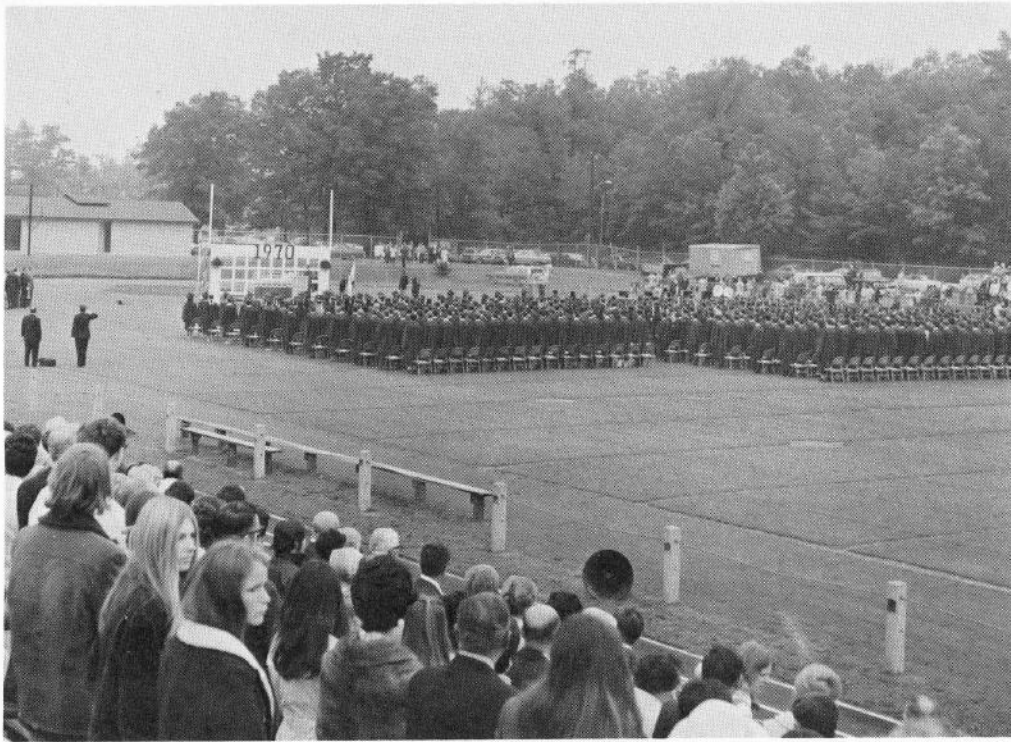

We, The Class of 1970, leave life and all the fun that goes with it to the junior class, in hopes that they might one day find it.

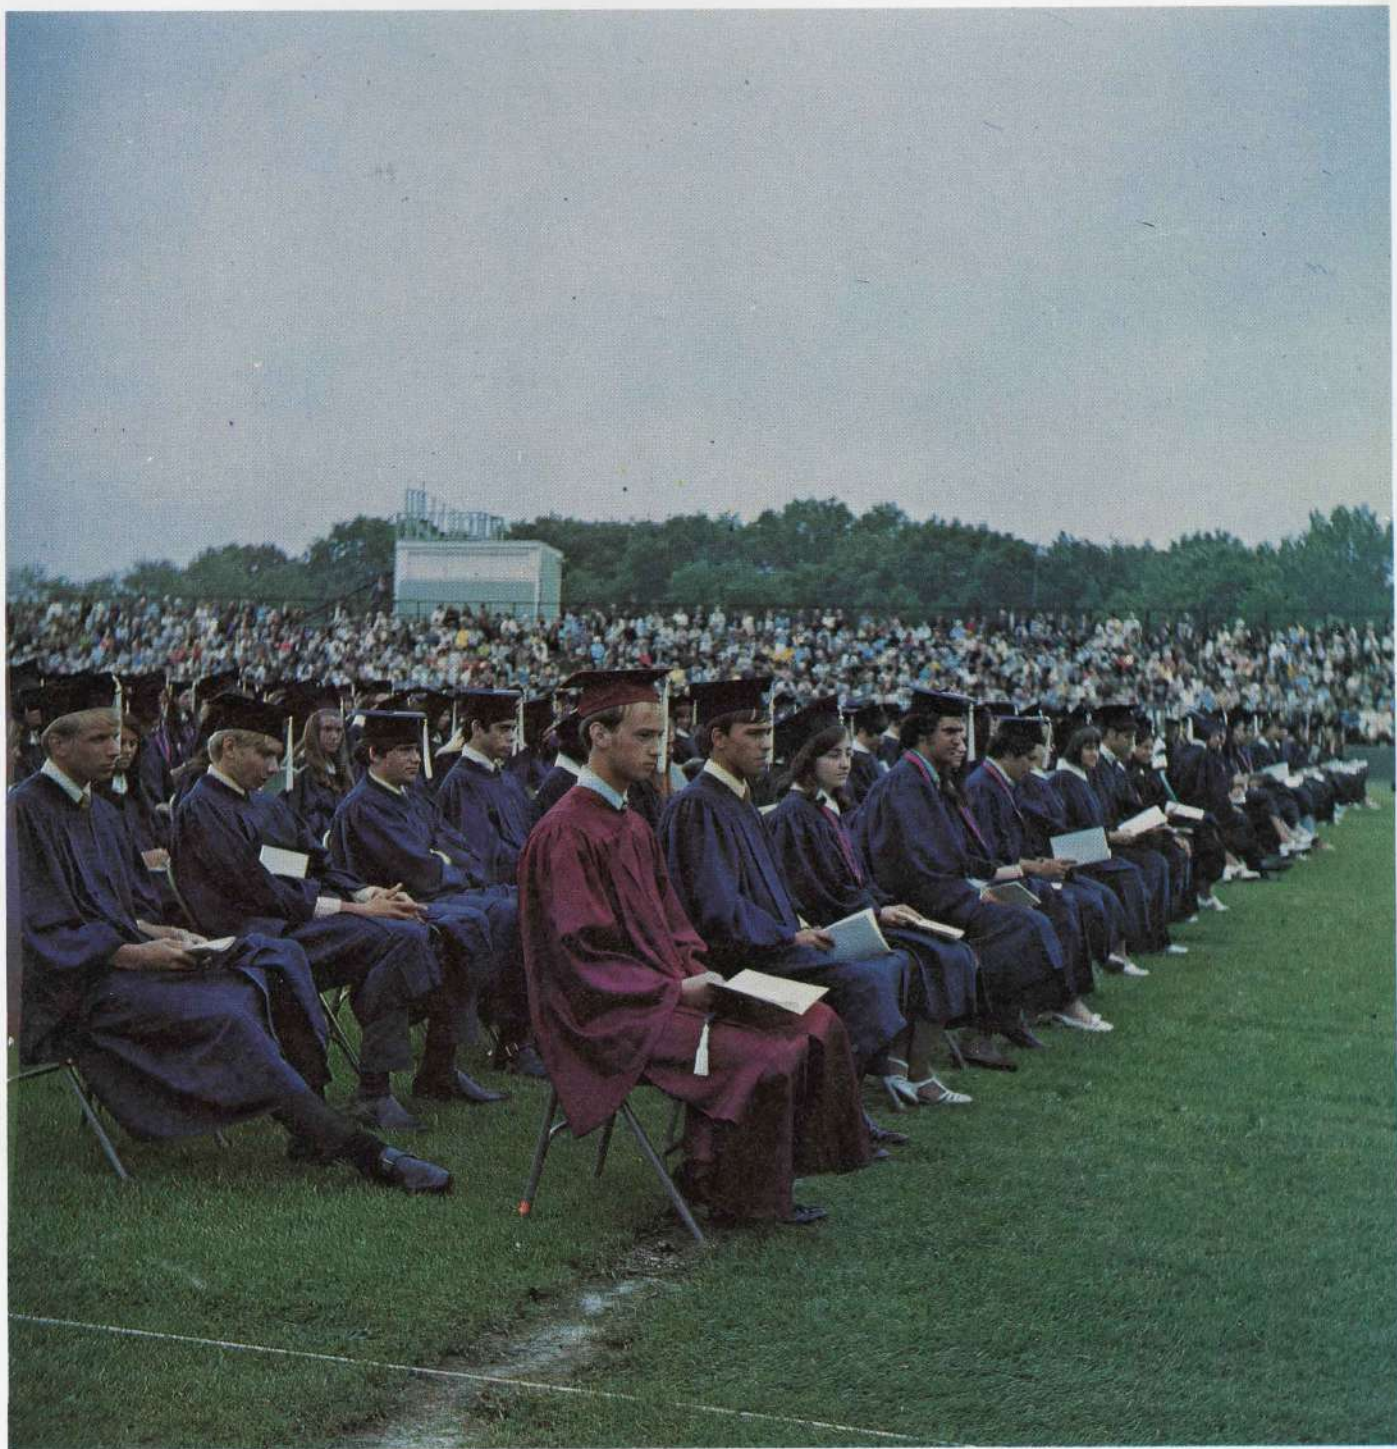

We, The Class of 1970, leave to the department heads, all our old textbooks, all our unbelievable excuses and the soothing thought that there will never be another class like this one.

We, The Class Of 1970, leave our advisors, Mrs. Egleston and Mr. Culhane with our problems solved and with our sincerest thanks.

And we, The Class Of 1970, leave Natick High School with the rhythm of life.

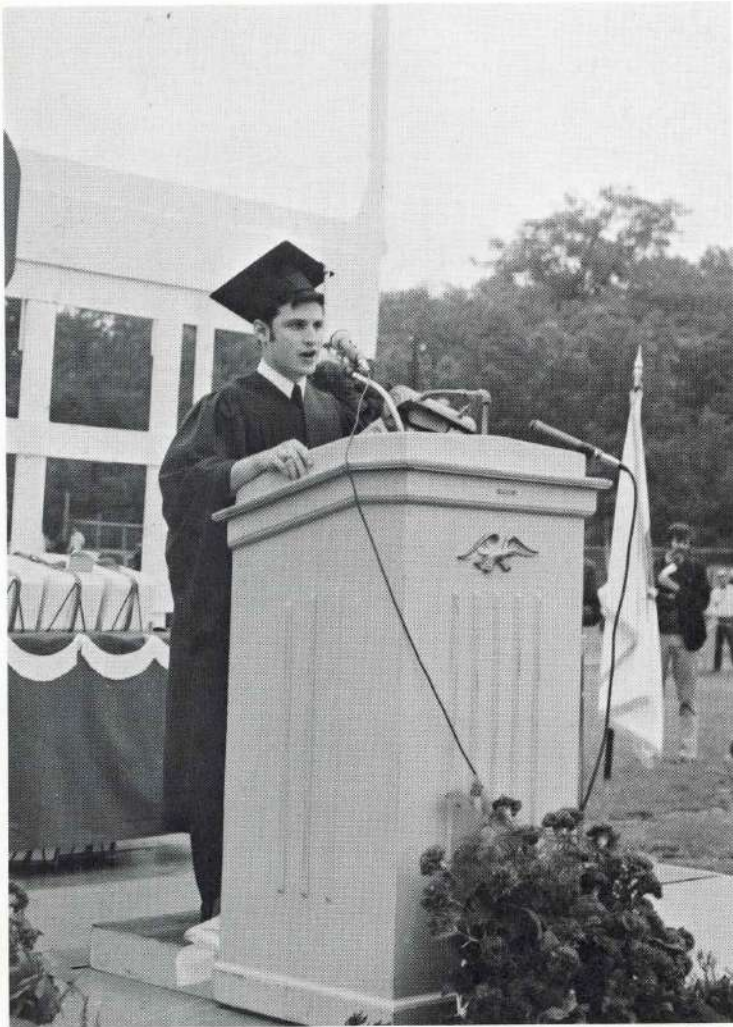

Signed:
Patricia Kincare
Barbara Levin

THE END . . .
OF THE BEGINNING

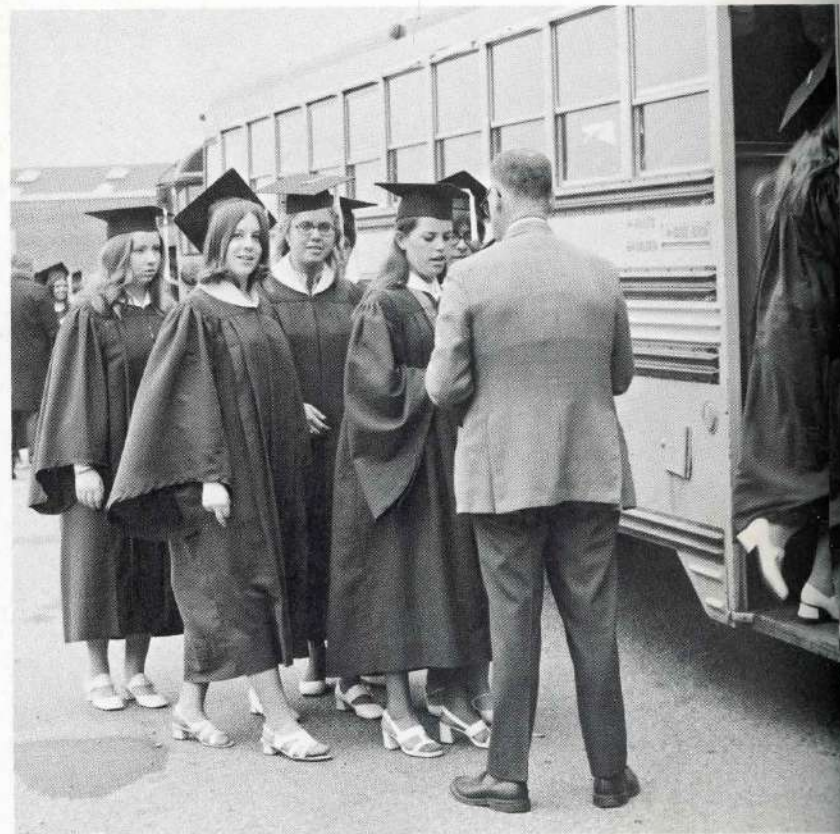

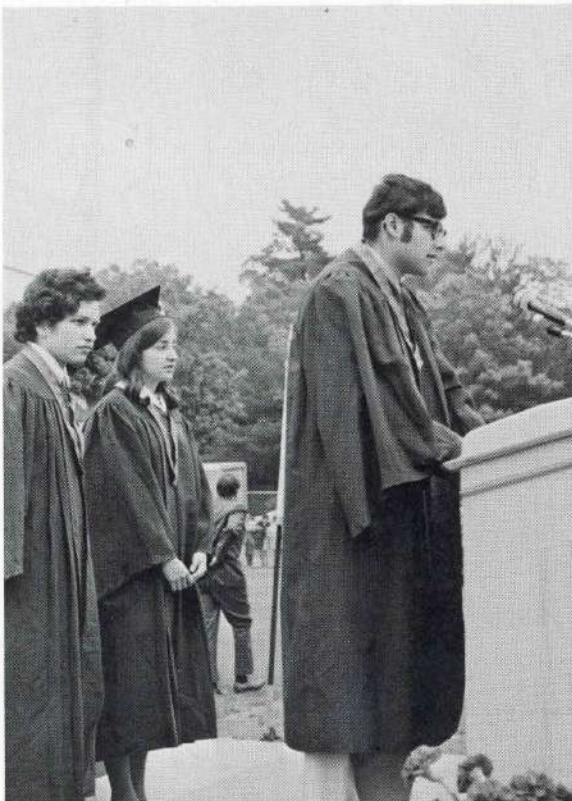

GRADUATION WELCOME

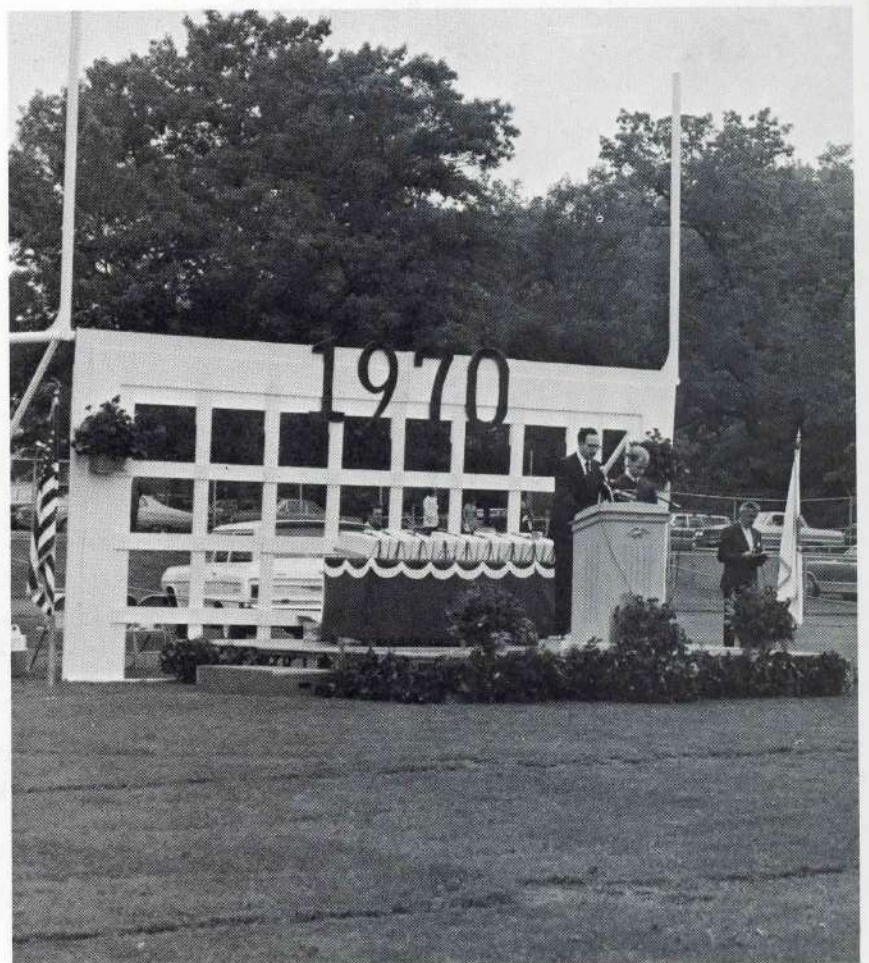

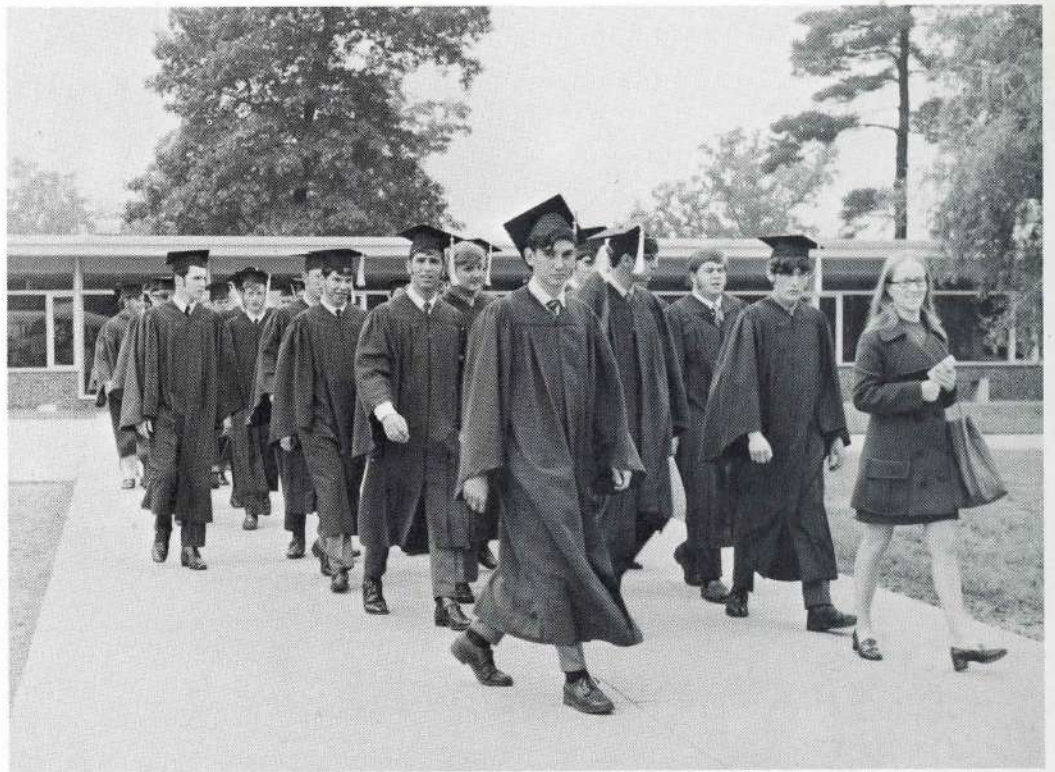

On behalf of the Natick High School Graduating Class of 1970 it gives me great pleasure to welcome all of you to share in our happiness on this Graduation Day, which marks the end of a most important scholastic venture.

Upon graduating today I hope that every member of this class will be aware that we owe to our country the opportunity which enabled us to come here and the preparation it has given us for, I hope, a full and happy life. If we want our children and grandchildren to have the same privilege, we must repay that debt — not by destruction but by being earnest, honest citizens devoted to preserving and improving this nation.

And so it is with this idea in mind and a deep sense of gratitude that I wish all of the 560 members of this class, now Natick High School Alumni, the very best of luck for a rewarding, productive, and happy life.

Given courage to evolve,
To make the choice, "to solve,"
Not run,
Undone.
